LILLE AGAIN IN HANDS OF ALLIES

Several Days of Desperate Fighting Preceded its Capture.

AN ARTILLERY DUEL

Russia Claims Great Success in East Prussia—Says Enemy's Losses Will Reach 200,000.

Paris, Oct., 24—The Germans today demanded an armistice in the region of Thiaucourt, to bury their dead. The demand was refused by the French general commanding and the fighting in that section is continuing wih increasing violentce.

London, Oct. 24.—After several days of fighting of the most desperate character Lille again is in the hands of the allies, according to the London Mail today.

While the story lacks official confirmation, it is printed on "credible authority" and is generally credited in military circles here, in view of the official statement from Paris that the Germans have been forced to give ground east of Armentieres.

Paris. Oct., 24—There was no cessation in the fighting along the line from La Basse to the sea throughout last night, according to the early reports received at headquarters here.

At a number of points the allies ceded ground in the face of the fierce attacks but at no point of strategic importance were the Germans able to gain.

The allied commanders, however, obeying the rule in progress throughout the campaign, have refused uselessly to sacrifice men holding exposed positions in the face of superior numbers.

The German long range artillery has been brought into action along the Nieuport-Dixmude-Ypres line and against the British and French monitor flotilla, but so far the advantage in the artillery duel has rested with the allies.

The heavy British naval guns, and the French three-inch, have demolished battery after battery of the Germans with enromous casualties among the gunners.

Petrograd Oct., 24—The Russians continue to sweep through Prussia.

For the vast number of the opposing armies, and the destruction of life the battle of the Vistula is the fiercest yet fought in the eastern campaign.

Russia has 2,600,000 men in the field between Niemen and the Vistula rivers. Germany, it is believed, has at least 1,120,000, while Austria has armies of 800,000 men on the firing line.

As additional details come from the front, the magnitude of the Russian victory in Warsaw increases. Before the actual losses can be computed, it will be several days. The government however, believes that 200,000 Germans lost their lives, were incapacitated, or are missing as a result.

The plans of the German war office were completely upset by the Russian victory at Warsaw according to military critics. German headquarters have been removed, and the Kaiser and his staff are retreating as rapidly to Silesia.

GREAT PROBLEM FOR FRANCE.

Paris, October 24—The greatest problem for France this winter probably will be to take care of the people at home. The army will have the first call on the national resources. The 37,000,000 people at home must get on as best as they can. A wonderful spirit of gentleness and kindness is moving the French people to create a community of interest in everything they have in which every person shall share. All private interests have shriveled up. Neverless, contributions from the outside world are sorely needed.

NEWS OF THE DAY

The Paris Matin says it is unofficially estimated that 1,200 civilians were killed at Rheims out of a population of 80,000 during the German bombardment of that town.

Speeding into Hempstead Village, Long Island, from Garden City, at the rate of 50 miles an hour an automobile contaiing five Hoboken, N. J., men was wrecked shortly after 10 o'clock last night, and four of the party were instantly killed. F. J. Gassman was the only survivor. He was taken to Nassau Hospital, Mineola, where it is expected that he will recover. One man is unidentified. The others are August Moos, Charles Meyer, and William Matthieson. As the car started to make a curve, it skidded against the curbing, and all the occupants were hurled out.

With the arrival in Washington yesterday of the Rev. Dr. J. B. Hingeley, of Chicago, corresponding secretary of the board of conference claimants of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and prime mover in an effort to raise $5,000,000 for an endowment fund for retired Methodist ministers, much interest will be aroused in local church circles in a three-day conference to be held at Metropolitan M. E. Church, beginning next Tuesday afternoon in the interest of the fund. Nine bishops of the M. E. Church, and many other prominent Protestant Churchmen are expected to attend. Dr. Hingeley will preside.

That the kaiser, who was present on the field at the battle front in the vicinity of Warsaw, whence the German troops had been retreating, was surrounded and nearly taken prisoner but just escaped in a motor car, is the statement of soldiers who participated in the fighting in those parts. One of the kaiser's generals, however, who was sent with presents from the kaiser to his troops, was seized by the Cossacks and brought into camp a prisoner.

John Prioleau, a London Daily Mail correspondent, telegraphs from "On the River Liss" At Ville Chapelle after a furious hours shelling of the German trenches, an advance was made with fixed bayonets. The enemy was hurled back more than six miles. He was dug out, kicked out, prodded out, and herded back in confusion. It was one of the best fights in the Arras campaign. The enemy lost 5,000 in killed and wounded."

A correspondent of the London Standard, writing from the French department of Pas de Calais says: "No lists or figures are officially disclosed but the shooting of batches of spies takes place daily in this and other towns of the district, and for the last three days there have been nearly as many women shot as men. The most hardened veteran shrinks from shooting women, but according to the laws of war it must be done. They are lined up with the men; often young girls or women of refinement at the height of their charm and beauty. They meet death as bravely as any man."

The Germans seem to be evacuating Antwerp. The German garrison of marines, infantry and artillery, in response to urgent orders, left yesterday. The staff left Antwerp first and the troops followed in special trains. They were dispatched hurriedly to the front, it is reported here to save a desperate situation. Belgian flags are floating over the Antwerp cathedral and many private houses. Antwerp gradually is returning to normal conditions. About 150,000 of its 350,000 inhabitants, most of whom fled the city when the Germans occupied it have returned to their homes. No tribute has been levied on the city as yet except that the Germans have demanded supplies for their army.

RECEIVERS ASKED FOR.

Attorneys Howard W. Smith and Richard B. Washington this afternoon filed in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia a petition in involuntary bankruptcy against the Virginia Glass Company for their clients, the Brennan Sand Company and others. A rule was issued today giving the company 10 days to show why they should not be adjudged a bankrupt.

SYNOD OF VIRGINIA ENDS ITS SESSION

Record for Rapid and Efficient Dispatch of Business Established.

PRAYERS FOR PEACE.

Three Recent Gifts of Money to Union Theological Seminary, Amounting to $66,600 Announced.

Lynchburg Va., October 24—A record for the rapid and efficient dispatch of business having been established, the Synod of Virginia, of the Presbyterian Church, in the United States adjourned the one hundred and twenty-seventh annual session at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Rev. F. T. McFadden, moderator, declared the body adjourned after the closing prayer,led by Rev. R. H. Fleming, which followed the clearing of the docket. Seldom, if ever, during recent years has the synod completed its business in so short a time, and to the promptness and executive ability of the moderator is due much of the credit for the early adjournment.

Through the report of the trustees of Union Theological Seminary, announcement was made of three recent gifts of money to the seminary, one of $1,600, to establish a student loan fund in memory of the late Rev. G. B. Strickler, long a member of the faculty; another of $15,000 to pay the salary of a registrar and professor and the other of $50,000 to be added to the endowment fund.

The consideration of the Assembly's Home and School was resumed, and the terms of transfer of the property from the general assembly as named by the assembly not being satisfactory, the synod adopted the following overture:

"Therefore, we, the remaining members of the board of directors and managers of the female orphanage of Fredericksburg. Va., do hereby overture the general assembly of 1915 to return the property at Fredericksburg, known locally as "Smithsonia," and $9,900 in synod to the new Synod of West Virginia money to such trustees or receivers as we shall hereafter have locally appointed, and we assure the assembly that all such property value shall be used in no other way than in the interests of educational and religious benefits of the Southern Presbyterian Church.

"And we also overture tho Synod of Virginia to join with us in this overture to the assembly and to appoint Rev. R. C. Gilmore to represent us and the synod before the assembly of 1915."

The synod adopted a resolution expressing appreciation to C. W. Somerville a layman, who has been closely associated with the home and school from the beginning.

Accompanying the letter from this synod to the new Synod of West Virginia, when it shall have been erected next week, was a resolution recommending that Rev. James Power Smith, D. D. bear the greetings of the older synod to the younger in person, if convenient and that he do so in letter if not in person.

A resolution was adopted recommending the payment of $100 annually to a worker who shall devote himself to Presbyterian students in State schools not in touch with local pastorates these workers to be paid from the home mission treasury.

Rev. J. E. Booker, of Lexington, was unanimously re-elected superintendent of home missions.

Rev. W. R. Laird, of Danville, was elected a member of the advisory committee of the women's synodical in the place of Rev. D. P. McGeachy,, who will be a member of the Synod of West Virginia. The women's synodical, including the children's societies, contributed $50,566 to the assembly causes last year.

During the afternoon session the synod united in prayer for peace to be established among the nations now at war.

Rev. M. B. Porter, of Richmond, presented the report of the permanent committee on Bible cause.

MONUMENT TO WEBSTER.

Interesting Exercises at Manassas Yesterday.

Manassas, Va., Oct. 24.—A monument to Colonel Fletcher Webster, of the Twelfth Massachusetts Regiment, a son of Daniel Webster, killed on the third day's fighting in the second battle of Bull Run, was unveiled here yesterday near the spot where he fell. It is a large boulder from the Webster farm in Massachusetts.

Confederate Veterans and Daughters of the Confederacy assisted in the exercises, conducted by the Twelfth Massachusetts Regiment Association, which arrived on a special train.

WILL CONTEST THE ROLLING STOCK LAW

Roanoke Takes Steps to Test Validity of Act of Legislature.

HAS SERVED NOTICE.

City Attorney Makes Preparations—Tax Commission May End Controversy by Segregation Plan.

Richmond, Oct., 24—The City of Roanoke will challenge and bring to a test in the Supreme Court the validity of the rolling stock act passed by the last General Assembly.

Informal notice to this effect was given yesterday to the State Corporation Commission through Clerk Richard T. Wilson, by S. Hamilton Graves city attorney of Roanoke. Mr. Graves called at Clerk Wilson's office and discussed he matter informally with him He was unable to say definitely at this time what procedure would be taken, but intimated a desire to interest the Corporation Commission in the contemplated action.

Attorney Graves said the new rolling stock law will deprive the city of Roanoke annually of revenues it formerly collected amounting to between $200,000 and $300,000. He added that Roanoke considered the law an unfair one, discriminating in favor of the counties and to the disadvantage of the cities of the State, and said that a determined fight would be made in the hope of having the law annulled. He was not prepared to discuss particulars at this time, he said.

While all of the cities of the State suffered loss of revenues by the new law, Roanoke was the heaviest loser. The original rolling stock law, which was enacted by the General Assembly of 1912, was successfully contested by the cities, being eventually declared invalid by the Supreme Court, of Appeals of Virginia.

A new bill which was practically the old measure with the vulnerable features eliminated was introduced in the last Legislature and after a stubborn fight, was enacted into a law. At one stage of the struggle the opposing sides practically agreed upon a compromise by which three-fourths of the revenues accruing from railroad rolling stock taxation was to go to the counties and one fourth to the cities. The compromise proposition, however, fell through at the eleventh hour, country members forcing a vote on an amendment dividing the entire proceeds.

It is not known whether Roanoke will make an effort to prevent the collection of railroad taxes by the counties under the new law this year. The assessments have been completed by the State Corporation Commission. The only apparent course that might be taken to prevent the counties from reaping their tax harvest is injunction proceedings against the State Corporation Commission restraining the commission from issuing the final order making effective the new assessments. Attorney Graves, however, has not indicated that this course is to be pursued. At his request Mr. Wilson supplied the Roanoke city attorney with information as to the distribution of rolling stock values for purposes of local taxation.

LOW TYPHOID RECORD.

Richmond, Oct. 24.—Virginia has had less typhoid in the last twelve months than in any one year during the regime of the State Board of Health according to a bulletin issued yesterday by the board. Only 4,914 cases were reported, and the estimated total for the year is 7,460.

It is pointed out that this reduction in the number of cases of typhoid fever means, not only a great reduction in sickness, but a positive saving of human life. Had conditions in Virginia since 1908-09 remained as they were in that year, the board's figures show that 2,180 persons who have altogether escaped typhoid fever would during the same period have died of it.

This will make a convenient number of persons for the hall, for both onlookers and dancers can be made comfortable. Persons expecting to go and who have not yet purchased their tickets can secure them from any member of the Cameron Club until the last one is sold.

Miss Virginia Benter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benter, of the Boulevard, was married Saturday night, October 17, to Mr. Charles Herman Rohlfs. The ceremony took place at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. Cornelius Brett, D. D., pastor of the Bergen Reformed Church, officiated. Palms, chrysanthemums and autumn leaves decorated the house, and the bride had for her attendants her two sisters, Miss Mary Benter and Miss Asenath Benter. Mr. Walter Derringer, of Orange, was best man. The ushers were Messrs. Raymond Doremus and Albert Rohlfs.

The bride wore a dress of white satin, trimmed with Leah lace. It was fashioned with a long court train, and to complete the costume a veil of tulle fastened with orange blossoms was worn. Her only ornament was a sapphire and diamond crescent, and she carried white orchids and lilies of the valley in a shower.

The bridesmaids had gowns of pink and white crepe de chine, Miss Mary's frock being of pink, and Miss Asenath wearing white. They carried pink chrysanthemums, and wore pins of pearls, the gift of the bride. The best man and ushers had silver trimmed canes as gifts. After the ceremony a reception was held and a wedding supper served.

The bride changed her gown for a blue broadcloth traveling suit, and after a Southern trip, Mr. and Mrs. Rohlfs will have their home in East Orange.—(Jersey City Journal.)

The bride's parents were former Alexandrians. Mrs. Benter is a daughter of Mrs. Virginia and the late William Chauncey, Among those present at the wedding were Mr. William Chauncey and daughters, Mrs. Grace Paff and daughters of this city.

Mrs. Marjorie C. Adamson, for many years matron of the Alexandria Hospital, and recently matron of the hospital at Salisbury, Md., where she was taken seriously ill some weeks ago, has been brought to the hospital in this city for treatment. Her son, John Adamson, connected with the engineering department of the B. & O. Railway and located at Meyersville, Pa., is visiting in this city.

HALLOWE'EN NOW NEAR

Joyous Season Will be Observed One Week From Tonight—Planning for Occasion.

Many young pople of this city are planning Hallowe'en next Saturday night—the time "when spooks hover near and destinies unfold." For years the time has been celebrated here by merry street carnivals and hilarious house parties, and the coming Hallowe'en will probably bring no exception to the rule.

From time to time reckless young persons have endeavored to improve upon the rights and ceremonies of the season by rowdyism, but it seems that no innovation can supplant those so long asscoiated with the last night in October.

What fishing into the depths of the unknown, angling for a "fate," for example, can give such a thrill as the old trick of dropping a cord into a dark cellar and slowly winding it into a ball again, or eating an apple by the light of a feeble candle before one's miror at the stroke of midnight. Or the anticipation of enlightening dreams when one goes to bed immediately after eating the yolk of a hard boiled egg, liberally salted.

Destiny tests and fortune telling are essential to the proper celebration of Hallowe'en. There are tests and must be carried out in darkness and alone, but many others are available for the gayest of festivals. One reason for the popularity of Hallowe'en is the informality that prevails. No stiff evening dress is required at the merry entertainments.

Halloween is a shirt sleeve and shirt waist occasion, unless a mask party is given, for some of the past times are apt to be a little rough and tumble, such as the scramble for nuts.

A bag of nuts is hung in the doorway and at a signal the leader of the party strikes this sharply with a stick. The bag bursts and the nuts fall in all directions with the party in hot pursuit. The one gathering the largest number is the one ordained by fate to accumulate the largest quantity of worldly goods.

Almost innumerable are the merry doings of Halloween, and if the weather permits street carnivals indulged in by throngs of masked and grotesquely costumed individuals will be evidence.

ALEXANDRIAN HONORED.

Ernest R. Boyer is State Lecturer of Knights of Pythias.

Richmond, Oct. 24.—The Grand Lodge of Pythians Thursday night completed its forty-sixth annual session and the delegates departed for their homes.

In the afternoon there was a special performance at the Colonial Theater. Then came the presentation of a special 5,000-foot picture of the story of Damon and Pythias at the Regent. This picture is one of the most costly and beautiful that has been presented since the moving picture business began. It depicts the story of the order in a wonderful manner and is embellished with many scenes that reveal the master hand in the making of the reel. There must be more than a thousand persons in the play.

Just before the final adjournment after provision had been made for the employment of a State lecturer, Grand Chancellor W. McK. Woodhouse announced the appointment of Ernest R. Boyer, of Alexandria, to that place. The announcement was received with applause.

NEWS OF THE DAY

'A GREAT DAY IS COMING'

Evangelist Starke Will Conduct Last Meeting Tomorrow Night in M. E. Church South

Lee Starke, who has been delivering addressess in the Methodist Churches of this city, will conclude his work here Sunday night. Three great services will be conducted by the evangelist on Sunday. At 11 a. m. the subject is to be "Seeing Jesus" At 3 p. m. the subject is to be "What Are We Going to Do With Our Children?" This is to be a special talk to parents, teachers and children, but all are invited. A special chorus is being organized for this service. At 7 p. m. Mr. Starke will take for his farewell topic, "The Second Coming of Christ."

Last night the evangelist gave a simple, yet beautiful story of "The Old Gospel Train," in which he graphically pictured the train, the conductor, the passengers, the various stations at which the train stopped until it finally reached Glory Station, the terminal station. It proved one of the most enjoyable services of the entire series. Those who have heard Mr. Starke's talks for the past three weeks have been deeply impressed with his earnestness, as well as with his eloquent sermons.

Over fifty have professed conversion to date and it is expected that this number will be doubled before the meetings close tomorrow night. The churches have been crowded at every service, and it is now generally conceded that the Starke meetings have been a success from every view point.

ENORMOUS COST OF WAR.

Every Person in Europe Will be Dead Broke at Close of Conflict.

London, Oct. 24.—England is now talking about two things—and about two things only. The first is the war. The second is the cost of the war.

"I must have fifty million pounds for the navy," announced Winston Churchill before hostilities began.

"Impossible," said various conservative members of the cabinet. "We can't afford it."

"Then you must take my resignation," said Churchill. "I have already spent seven million pounds."

Churchill didn't resign. The total expenditure directly and indirectly authorized in those first furious days amounted to 150,000,000 pounds. That sent the public debt nearer the top of the thermometer than it had ever been. And the war had just begun. No one knows how long it will last or how much it will cost.

"Suppose that England has 1,000,000 men in the field," said one authority upon war costs. "They will cost her not less than three dollars per day per man. That does not take into consideration the destruction of material, the building of ships and guns, and the original outfitting of each man."

It costs $50 to put a soldier in the field, for clothes, equipment, ammunition, and initial transportation. England now has 200,000 men in the field. She has 600,000 recruits in her training camps. There is $40,000,000 on the wrong side of the ledger at the outset. They will cost $2,400,000 a day to maintain. She has lost half a dozen cruisers. They were old and of slight value, it is true. It has cost her $5,000,000 to bring back her wounded and organize her hospital services. The war has barely started.

England now taxes almost everything that is taxable. When you pay your bill at the hotel a penny stamp is stuck on it. If you keep a man servant you pay fifteen shillings a year for the privilege. If your wife delights her soul by the contemplation of your armorial bearings upon the door of your motorcar you pay two pounds and two shillings each year. If your crest is merely displayed on her notepaper the cost is reduced by half. For the car itself a tax of a pound or more must be paid. If the youngster has an air-gun, papa must cough up ten shillings annually. If there is a death or a birth or a marriage or a burial in your family and the fact gets on the records, a tax must be paid. When you lease a house or inherit money or go into an inebriate's home some one must settle with the state.

"The net result of this war," said a man in high place the other day, "is that every one in Europe and England will be stone broke."

LEGENDS OF POCAHONTAS.

A tablet in memory of Pocahontas, daughter of Powhatan, was unveiled at Jamestown today. The story of the Indian princess as told in the school books thrilled us in our juvenile days, and in our adolescence we were taught to regard all stated of the aborigine as Gospel truths. In later years however, as the myths of other countries were unfolded, suspicion was aroused as to the foundation of certain stories concerning Pocahontas.

In the vicinity of Jamestown the stone upon which Captain John Smith's head is alleged to have reposed, as Indians were about to beat out his brains when Pocahontas sprang to his rescue, is still shown tourists. It is significant that Smith did not relate this story until long after the daughter of the forest had paid the dept of nature. It is also said that the legend was taken from a story told in Germany centuries before in which a hero was rescued by the daughter of a chieftain under similar circumstances.

That Pocahontas did live and was known to the early settlers is doubtless true, and that she married the Englishman Rolfe can be proven. But that certain stories in connection with her uneventful history should be taken with due allowance has long been admitted.

In bygone years many people in Virginia firmly believed they were descendants of the Indian Princess. A representation of this class were Alexandrians. They were not as numerous as the descendants of Confucius or Mahomet, but were equally proud of their claims.

ROLLERSKATERS AND AUTOMOBILISTS

In Newport News an automobile which was being operated by a woman struck and killed a boy who was skating. The Times Herald says:

"The roller skate problem has given the City Council no end of trouble. The members desire that the children shall enjoy this innocent sport to the utmost, but skating on the sidewalks became so troublesome to pedestrians that the Council finally felt constrained to prohibit it. The children were then forced to skate, if at all, in the middle of the street, and that is even more troublesome to drivers of vehicles, and it is a menace to life and limb. There have been several accidents and a few days ago a precious young life was crushed out by a passing automobile; and there is sorrow in two families today—sorrow in the family of the dear little boy who was killed, and sorrow in the family of the lady who was driving the machine."

Since the above distressing accident newspapers in other sections of Virginia have called attention to the danger to the lives and limbs of children who engage in rollerskating. It it natural for children to enjoy themselves, and when they can do so in safety no one should object to their innocent diversions. But the fact remains that children while engaged in play seldom realize danger. They imagine everybody will get out of their way; hence they play ball, use wagons, bicycles, and tricycles and engage in rollerskating in the public street unmindful of passing vehicles. The automobile and motorcycle are menaces, as they flit by at terrific speed at times, and often without sounding horns.

Although automobiles and motorcycles are increasing in number in Alexandria all the time, but few accidents to the same and they of a minor nature, occurred, but they are becoming too frequent in other places and those modern contrivances are liable at any time to bring woe to households in Alexandria.

THE LATE MRS. WATKINS

Funeral services for Mrs. Sarah C. Watkins were held this afternoon from her late home, 1011 King street, and were conducted by the Rev. D. H. Kern, D. D., presiding elder of the Alexandria district of the M. E. Church South, assisted by the Rev. J. W. Duffey, D. D., pastor of the Washington street Methodist Church. The pallbearers were Dr. Wilkins, M. L. Dinwiddie, J. T. Preston, George Keys, F. J. Pollard and Herbert Graves. Interment was in the Bethel Cemetery.

HELD FOR MURDER

Valentine Trout Accused of Killing His Guest.

Frederick, Md., Oct. 24.—Valentine Trout, aged 74 years, of near Ijansville, was placed in jail here yesterday afternoon on a charge of murdering Moses Thompson, aged 72, who died Thursday morning. The shooting occurred October 4, while the aged men were under the influence of peach brandy. They had been friends for a long while, and Thompson was on a visit to Trout's home when the trouble occurred. It is said that Trout got tired of his guest and finally, when he could not get him to leave, picked up a shotgun and fired.

Trout claims that he aimed into the air, not intending to strike Thompson. In some manner the injured man got into a tobacco house and there lay wounded for many hours. Ninety-four bird shot entered Thompson's body.

ALEXANDRIA'S REPLY.

Alexandria Accepts the Evidence and Many Alexandria Readers Will Profit by It.

Which is the more weighty proof—a few words from an Alexandria resident, whom we know and respect, or volumes from strangers in distant towns? There can be only one reply.

Mrs. M. E. Lash, 316 north Pitt street, Alexandria, says: "Some time ago I noticed that my kidneys were not doing their work as they should. The kidney secretions caused annoyance. My back was very weak and I could hardly stoop. I tried remedy after remedy, but nothing did me any good until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They completely cured me, and I have had no further trouble. You may continue using the endorsement I gave Doan's Kidney Pills at the time the cure was made."

TRADE REVIVAL SURE TO COME

Confidence Is Given By Paish and Blackett of English Treasury

Washington, Octobr 24.—Financial forces of the government, the wisdom of some of the most prominent men in the American banking world and the friendly counsel of representatives of Great Britain were turned yesterday toward a solution of the problem of a readjustment of the foreign exchange market to meet conditions which have arisen as a consequence of the European war.

For more than three hours the Federal Reserve Board, Sir George Paish and Basil B. Blackett, representing the English treasury, and some of the best known bankers in New York discussed the situation in all its aspects. According to those present there was not a note of pessimism heard to mar the harmony of the conference and there was every reason to believe that all the problems which loomed so large on the financial horizon a few months ago will be solved without great difficulty. Here are the salient points discussed in the conference and the results anticipated:

American bankers stand ready to pay their obligations to England in cash. The $100,000,000 gold pool already formed and $80,000,000 raised by a New York syndicate to meet New York city's obligations probably will suffice to satisfy England. Payment of this total may not be necessary.

The Federal Reserve Board to hasten consideration of the proposed cotton loan fund plan, designed in part to give bottom to the cotton market. The cotton exchange in New York New Orleans and Liverpool is to be opened as soon as possible. The New York exchange probably will confer through a committee with the Liverpool exchange before such action is taken.

HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind Unable to Work, and What Helped Her.

Summit Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Anna Belle Emey, of this place, says: "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctored lots for it, but without success. I suffered so very much, that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work.

I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 48 years years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16.

Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years and will help you, too.

Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it.

MISS LEE'S OBSERVATIONS.

Daughter of Great American Peace Advocate at Any Price.

New York, Oct 24—The World prints the following special cable dispatch from London:

Miss Mary Custis Lee, only surviving daughter of General Robert E. Lee, who has just reached London from Hamburg, yesterday gave a striking interview at the Hyde Park Hotel, where she will stay until she sails for America.

"I am a soldier's daughter, and descended from a long line of soldiers," she said, "but what I have seen of this war, and what I can foresee of the misery which must follow, have made me very nearly a peace advocate at any price."

A battalion of Lord Kitchener's new army was marching past, directly beneath the room in which Miss Lee was speaking. The men started to sing, "It's a Long Way to Tipperary," and Miss Lee who never had heard this now popular music hall ballad, went to a window and stood for some time, looking silently at the column of khaki-clad men below. When she turned to speak again there were tears in her eyes and her voice broke.

"My father often used to say," she said looking straight at a table on which was a picture of Lord Kitchener, autographed by him last Christmas, "that war is a terrible alternative, and should be the very last. I have remembered these words in the last three months, and I often wonder with many misgivings, if, in this case, war was the last alternative.

"As I said I am a soldier's daughter, and got my first full view of life in the dark days of one of the world's great civil wars; but it has been an altering experience for me to watch one week in Germany and the next week in England, the handsome, the strong, the brave of both countries, marching away to kill or to be killed—perhaps to return maimed and useless men.

"My father used to say it was not those killed in battle—often a quick and always a glorious death for a soldier—but those who were crippled and mangled and enfeebled, who faced after the war a world that had no place for them, who were to be pitied I think of all of this, and ask myself why must it be. What can be worth it?

"I feel close to the English people and particularly close to the British army. I have known many English officers and their wives and daughters. Last winter in Egypt I had the privilege of seeing something of Lord Kitchener, and I have high admiration for him. But most of what I see in the Engish press seems hysterical and without reason—the spy mania for instance, and the senseless calling of the Germans Huns and Vandals.

"I have known many German military men and I cannot believe that these men are what English imagination has painted them. From the beginning of the war I have been neutral. I have tried to follow President Wilson's advice, in word and deed. My sympathy is with suffering, wherever it exists, with brave men who are fighting and suffering in trenches, and brave women who, in practically all homes of Europe, are waiting and suffering."

UPRISING IN PORTUGAL

Lisbon, Oct. 24.—The monarchists of Portugal made attempts on the nights of October 20 and October 21 to effect uprisings. There were outbreaks at various places, especially in the northern part of Portugal, which for a time was cut off from telegraphic communication with Lisbon.

A sharp conflict took place at Mafra between 100 civilians and republican troops. The civilians were led by a lieutenant, who seized the arsenal. The troops were victorious. An insurgent band numbering 200 men was pursued to the mountains.

Portions of the railroad track at Santarem and Maffa were torn up and trains were derailed. A colonel and two sergeants were arrested at Santarem and many monarchists were taken into custody in Lisbon.

MUCH FOOD LYING IDLE

London, Ocober 24—The Standard states that 250,000 bags of flour and 4,000,000 pounds of cheese, a war gift to the mother country from Canada, has been lying on the London docks for the past two months because of the difficulty in discovering who is responsible for its handling. It has now been ascertained that local government board is responsible and its members are busy considering what is to be done with the food. It is possible that some of it will be given to the hungry Belgians in London.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Literary Society Holds Meeting—Junior Class to Entertain Seniors.

The first program of the session was rendered last Saturday night by the A. H. S. Literary Society in its second regular meeting this year. Miss Ruth LeHew, Miss Carol Leadbeater, and Thomas Wattles declaimed.

In the debate Ashby Bladen and Tupper Barrett, as the affirmative, against Miss Alice Bladen and Elwyn Brawner, argued in detail the subject "Resolved, that Germany was justified in declaring war," the discussion ending in a victory for the affirmative. The decision was returned by the judges, Mr. Blanton, John Reardon and John Leadbeater.

A called meeting of the Society was held Tuesday afternoon, in order to clear up a misunderstanding about the purchase of a Victrola or a graphophone to present to the school. This matter had been part of the society's business at the regular meeting. Owing to a shortage in the treasury, which necessitated the buying of a machine of a smaller cost, a vote called upon by the president authorized the purchase of the Victrola and not the graphopone. The Victrola has been received at the High School.

The next regular meeting of the Literary Society will be held next Saturday.

Ivintations have been issued by the Junior Class for a Holloween reception to the members of the Senior Class in the school building Friday, October 30th. It has been customary at the High School every year to tender something of this sort to the graduating class and this year more fun is expected to be added to the occasion by the Holloween season.

The committee on arrangements which was appointed at a meeting of the class a week ago have been engaged during the past week in doing everything that promises a good time to the two classes and teachers. The members of the committee are: Ashby Bladen, chairman, Miss Marion Kennedy, Miss Dolly Callahan, Jack Leadbeater and Clyde Smith.

The officers of the class are:

Ashby Bladen, President; William Schafer, Vice-president; Miss Dolly Callahan, Secretary Treasurer.

A meeting of the Class of 1918, this year's Freshmen, was held yesterday afternoon to decide on the class pin and colors. The committee on the selection of the pin was Miss Dorothy Plaskett. Miss Lucile Johnson, and Miss Elizabeth Howell. The colors recommended by them were black and gold on a pin of pretty shape and design. The pin and colors were adopted by the class. The officers of the class of '18 are:

Leo Pohl, President; Claude Haynes Vice-President; and Miss Ora Dickert, Secretary-Treasurer.

The first 1914-15 issue of the Maroon and White, mentioned heretofore in these columns as expected to be out last week, will instead appear Wednesday, the 28th.

Reports for the first six week's will be distributed next week in the various classes.

The first team of the High School is playing the Briarley Hall Military Academy this afternoon at the Ball Park.

IRVINE IS HOPEFUL

Tide Is Flowing Away From Republicans in Ninth District—Active Campaign Continues.

Bristol, Va., Oct., 24—R. Tate Irvine, Democratic nominee for Congress in the Ninth District was here yesterday afternoon and Friday night in conference with the district committee and chairman of most of the counties of the district.

"We came together," said Mr. Irvine tonight, "to exchange notes and get a better idea of conditions throughout the district. The reports received from the several counties were entirely satisfactory. There is a good interest among the Democrats, and it is gaining daily. We feel now that the only thing necessary to bring victory in November is to keep the tide steadily in the direction it is now flowing. Not only are the Democrats interested in redeeming the district to Democracy, but they are especially anxious to register a hearty indorsement of the Wilson administration.

"Events of the last few weeks have strengthened their pride in Democracy and in every county there is an active interest. It is our purpose to keep this interest steadily on the increase by public meetings and discussion of the issues by distinguished speakers."

BODIES FLOATING IN SEA.

Coast of Holland Presents Gruesome Picture

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 24.—Captain Stephan, master of the Dutch steamer Noordyk, which sailed from Rotterdam on September 22, and arrived at this port this week, says that the horrors he saw before he sailed are simply indescribable.

The coast of Holland, he said, was lined with the bodies of the British seamen who were drowned when their cruisers were destroyed by German submarines just before he sailed.

The various small countries of Europe, including Holland, Norway, Denmark and Sweden, are in a fearment and their people are filled with apprehension since the neutrality of Belgium was violated by Germany and fear that they may lose their independence as a result of the war.

Holland, he said, is unable to erect fortifications because of the instability of the ground, but her cities are surrounded by canals, in which the water, now about eight feet deep, has been electrified, carrying 2,000 volts, and that should man or horse enter the water instant death will follow.

He said that the electricity is conveyed through the water in pipes, miles upon miles of pipe, and the water is constantly agitated by the tremendous charge. Holland, he said, means to maintain her neutrality at any cost, of $1,000,000 a day, and she and the other little countires, her neighbors, except England and her allies to aid them in maintaining this neutrality should there be need.

He expressed his firm belief that although the Germans have given tremendous battle and may be expected to continue to do so for a long time, the allies, because of their superior resources, will eventually win. It is life or death with England, he said and the English people will fight to the last man and have bound their allies to stay with them to the end. The supply of food in Germany, he said, will be exhausted before long, and then the fighting must cease.

MANY DROWN IN FLOOD.

Three-Inch Rain Raises Streams Running Through San Antonio.

San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 24.—Probably 20 persons were drowned here yesterday in a flood of the San Antonio river and the San Pedro and Alazan creeks. The known dead number 13. A five-inch rainfall in less than three hours caused a 15-foot flood in the river and put the creeks out of their banks from 100 to 1,000 feet.

All the deaths occurred in the two creeks which run through the city. A number of them were swept away. The property loss, it is thought, will not exceed $150,000. A number of unidentified Mexicans are among the drowned.
